

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to a process for separating 2-butanol from tert-butanol/water mixtures using a membrane to reduce a water concentration to less than the limit concentration
5 of the distillation boundary line connecting the two azeotropes TBA/water and SBA/water and is subsequently worked up by distillation.